About

Diana Silken (Aragón, Spain, 1996) is a digital artist. Through her illustrations she explores themes of love, intimacy and queerness, focusing in the intricacies of personal relationships and characters's psychology.

Diana studied at Basque Country University (Degree of Creation and Design, Illustration minor) and at Art School of Zaragoza (Degree of Illustration). Since then, she has worked in several projects for a local company as a Graphic Designer and Illustrator.

She also has been part of collective projects like fanzines and charity events, providing spot illustrations and book covers.
